N UNGUARDED POINT

Been Menace to Life and Limb or Many Years—Funerals of ictims of Sunday's Accident.

FACTS DEVELOPED BY CORONER'S INQUEST.

Hume's Crossing on Mt. ernon Avenue, used by hundreds of automobilists daily, one of the most dangerous rossings in the United States. Both the railroad and the madam roads curve at this oint and a high embankment bstructs the view from all des.

There is no watchman, gates, alarm bell, and the cross- g sign is on the north side of e road, not plainly discern- le when approaching from e south.

Coming towards the crossing both directions a steep grade encountered until within 50 et of the railroad when there a down grade to the tracks.

The trains of the Washing- n and Old Dominion Railway ck between Alexandria and luemont Junction, a distance seven miles pass this ding many times a day in reversed position.

ree of the four train em- es were inexperienced. firemen had only been em- oyed on a train for three eeks, the flagman on the rear d been over the road four mes and the conductor had en serving in that capacity or three months. Neither he fireman or the flagman ad ever been examined in he rules of the company.

The engineer testified that e was unable to see the cross- ng from his cab and did not know that there had been an accident until he had been advised by his fireman; he tried to use his air in stopping the train, but found that the air was exhausted; he reversed his engine but was unable to stop the light train within 300 yards from where the automobile was struck.

The air brakes on the train were defective and could not be used ,according to the portions of the apparatus which were exhibited by the coroner.

There was no way of communication between the flagman on the rear of the train and the engineer in the cab except by hand signals.

That within a distance of three iles from Alexandria, on Mount ernon Avenue, one of the most fre- uented automobile roads used by undreds of automobilists daily in raveling from the capital to all arts of the South and the highway f traffic between Alexandria and Washington, exists one of the most angerous crossings in the United States, where two fatal accidents ave occurred in recent years, was leveloped in the coroner's inquest which was held in Alexandria yesterday afternon to investigate the death of William H. Peck and Ernest Zell, who were killed at Hume's crossing on Sunday morning.

High bluffs on both sides of the railway track covered with undergrowth and effectually shutting out a clear view of both the macadam road and the steam road, a sharp incline to within 50 feet of the crossing and then a dip downward to the railway track, the absence of watchman, gates or alarm bell, combine to make a crossing where every element of danger is present. Over this danger spot were shuttled the trains of the Washington and Old Dominion Railway between Alexandria and Bluemont Junction, where they joined the mainline. One half of the trains, those traveling from East to West, were operated in the usual method of running trains, that is with the engine in front of the train pulling the cars, but the other half, those running from Bluemont Junction to Alexandria are backed the entire distance. It was a train that was backing that crashed in the Peck automobile, and the startling testimony was developed that the engineer was unable to even see the crossing from his position in the cab. Yet he testified that hardly a trip was made except he saw automobiles waiting for the train to pass. He considered a speed of 15 miles an hour as perfectly safe.

Inexperience on the part of the railway crew and lack of proper signals were developed in the hearing, and after listening to the testimony of eight witnesses the coroner's jury brought in the following verdict:

"We believe the crew to be inexperienced, and the accident could have been avoided with proper warning signals at crossing and better braking equipment."

The jury was composed of Robert F. Green, foreman; John Gary, N. V. Clayton, George W. Wells, H. H. Powell and J. E. McPherson.

The inquest commenced at 4:30 o'clock, and there was present a number of lawyers representing the various interests involved. The presence of Crandall Mackey, Commonwealth's attorney of Alexandria county, and the deep interest he took in the examination of witnesses indicated that action would be taken by the county authorities looking to the abatement of conditions at Hume's crossing. The family of Mr. Peck was represented by Attorney Eugene B. Taylor, who was associated with Douglass Staurt in the case the family of Mr. Zell by John M. Johnson, while the interests of the railway company were looked after by Judge C. E. Nicol and Rudolph Yateman, of the firm of Lambert & Yateman, of Washington, general counsel for the Washington and Old Dominion road.

Forrest L. Crook, of Alexandria, flagman on the rear of train, who was struck by pieces of the automobile and injured by broken glass from the windshield of the automobile, gave the clearest account of the accident. He said as the train rounded the curve just before reaching the crossing he saw the automobile aproaching from a distance of 60 or 70 feet. He waived at one of the men in the car who waived back at him. At that time he thought the machine would cross the tracks safely, but at a distance of 25 or 30 feet he saw that there would be a collision. He jammed on his emergency air but it did not have any effect. The railway car struck the automobile in the center and the left wheel rode on the pilot. The train was running from 10 to 15 miles an hour, but he could not estimate the speed of the automobile. He had been employed as a machinist on a number of railroads, but this was his first position as a member of a train crew. He had made four trips over the road as flagman, and he had never been examined in the rules of the company. He testified there was no method of communication between himself and the engineer except by waving his arm.

C. H. Darley, engineer of the train, was questioned at length. He said that since last July, when the Washington and Old Dominon Railway had taken over the Bluemont branch of the Southern Railway, it had been customary to back the trains from Bluemont Junction to Alexandria. He did not know why this was done, as it was possible to run on the main line at the former station and reverse the train. In answer to an inquiry as to whether or not he did not think it dangerous to back a train over such an important crossing as Hume's he said it would be safer to have the engine in front. He said that he knew nothing of the accident until he had been told by his fireman, 100 yards after passing the crossing. From his seat in the cab he could not see the crossing, and the first thing he knew that anything was wrong was a puff of dust and smoke in his face. He heard the flagman apply the air brakes and tried to apply the air from the engine, but found that it had no effect. When notified by the fireman he reversed the engine and stopped within a distance of 900 yards from the crossing. He said that he was "drifting" at a speed of 15 miles an hour, but acknowledged that he was behind time and had made up three minutes between Bluemont Junction and the crossing a distance of 5 miles.

Engineer Darley said that he blew his whistle four times for the crossing at the whistle board, a distance

LABOR QUESTION IN GRAND COUNCIL

Improved Order of Red Men Rule Resolution Out of Order.

ACTION IS UPHELD.

Alexandria Tribes With Lone Star Band to Visit Grand Council in Washington Tonight.

Washington, Sept. 9.—The Improved Order of Red men, in sixty-seventh great sun session at the Willard, today, considered a resolution correcting reports of the order's attitude on labor. The organization, according to Great Incohonee Carl Foster, has not gone on record in opposition to labor. He merely ruled out of order a resolution which sought to force the use of union labels on all of the order's printing. The convention sustained his ruling, which is based on a contention that politics, religion, labor and capital, have no part in the order.

Labor men in the convention today declared that this ruling was correct, and, consequently, one of the Illinois members rose to a point of order today to correct reports that the organization had dealt a blow to labor. The union label will still go on some of the Red Men's printing, but not under orders from the national council.

The chief business of the morning session was secret consideration of several changes in the ritual. While the men debated this the visiting Pocahontas made a sightseeing trip around the city.

Before the adjournment this afternoon the subject of widow's pensions and care of the convention will receive the report from George E. Green on the subject of orphans.

The Red Man have already forced legislation for widow's pensions in fourteen states, and Mr. Green will present a lengthy statement on the past year's work in this matter.

The order expects to continue its efforts for legislation which will make the widow's pensions a compulsory institution in every state.

Memorial services for the dead of the Red Men will be held at 8 o'clock tonight, and the speakers will be E. O. Conner, of Spokane; W. A. Foulton, of Westfield, and J. T. Letcher, of Montgomery, Ala.

The American Indian Guards Band, of Alexandria, from Lone Star Camp, No. 1, will furnish music. Both Alexandria tribes will visit the grand council tonight.

Tomorrow the Red Men will make a trip to Mount Vernon. The convention probably will close Thursday.

Candidate For Marshall.

Harry C. Hall, for the past eight years high constable of Portsmouth, Va., is in Washington, having gone to that city in response to the urging of his friends in Congress and elsewhere in official life, who are advocating his appointment as United States marshall for the Eastern District of Virginia. Many of Mr. Hall's supporters have commended him to Attorney General McReynolds.

Duel Tragedy.

The body of Ida Lee, an 18-year-old high school girl, was found in a grove north of Salem, Ohio, early yesterday morning with a bullet hole through her head. A few hours later the body of George Gray, also 18 years old, and a schoolmate of the girl, wa found in a field 6 miles distant. He had shot himself through the head. The pair had been sweethearts, and it is believed Gray shot Miss Lee. They had been missing since Saturday, when they went mushroom hunting. When the couple did not return home Saturday evening an elopement was suspected. Then Jesse Gray, the boy's father, found that his revolver was missing. Alarmed, he notified the parents of the girl, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lee, and a search was instituted. Mrs. Theda Allen, the boy's grandmother, who lives near where his body was found, said he had appeared at her home Saturday morning, greatly excited, and then disappeared in the woods.

BANKERS' ASSOCIATION.

Special Meeting Will be Held September 27 to Consider Glass Bill.

Richmond, Sept. 9.—Unanimously endorsing a resolution approving the action of the bankers' conference in Chicago held August 28 relative to the Owens-Glass currency bill now pending before Congress, the executive council of the Virginia Bankers' Association held a meeting at the Jefferson Hotel Saturday night. The council decided to call a special meeting of the association to be held in Richmond September 27th to take action in reference to the pending money measure.

The executive council assembeld in response to a call issued by President Hurt for a special meeting to consider the currency bill. Its action was summed up in a resolution, unanimously adopted, indorsing the amendments to the measure proposed by the bankers' conference in Chicago, the effects of which would be to modify the bill in a number of important respects.

The Chicago amendments, indorsed in full by the executive council, demand the establishment of one central federal reserve bank instead of twelve, as provided for by the Owen-Glass bill; provide changes designed to give the bankers of the county a voice in naming the reserve board of control, and suggest important changes in the proposed reciprocal relations between the national and state federal reserve banks.

When the bankers' association met last June at Old Point Comfort a resolution approving the Owen-Glass bill was passed. It is now claimed that the association at that time was not fully advised as to the contents of the bill.

C. Taylor Burke, of Alexandria, attended the meeting.

JOYRIDE MAY PROVE FATAL.

Danville Women Seriously Injured When Automobile is Wrecked.

Danville, Va., Sept. 9.—Clemmie Bowman and Lucy Turpin are in the General Hospital suffering from possibly fatal internal injuries, broken limbs and bruises as a result of an automobile accident which occurred Sunday night on the Design road, when the two were out for a joy ride.

The Bowman woman, it is alleged, wanted to drive the car herself, but the negro chauffeur declined to allow her, and when she threatened him, and it is alleged, drew a knife on him, the negro jumped from the car while it was running at fifteen miles an hour and left it to the women, who lost little time in running it up a steep bank, causing it to turn turtle.

A railroad operator hearing the crash, hurried out and lost no time in sending a call for physicians, three of whom had to prize the machine off the Bowman woman, who is the most seriously hurt.

WILL NOT RECOGNIZE UNION.

Copper Mine Strikers so Informed by General Manager.

Calumet, Mich., Sept. 9.—In an address yesterday to copper mine strikers at the Baltic Mine, General Manager F. W. Deiton, of the Baltic, Champion and Trimountain Mines, comprising the Copper Range Consolidated, informed the men that his company, like all others in the district, was firm in its intention never to treat with or recognize the Western Federation of Miners. He told them the company would take up any of the men's other demands, such as higher wages and better working conditions, if they would drop the federation and return to work. Mr. Deiton is the first operator personally to address the strkers since the strike was started July 28.

The hearing before Circuit Judge O'Brien in the injunction case brought by the federation against the sheriff to restrain him from employing outside deputies was adjourned today for one week.

Women pickets were much in evidence again today interfering with workmen.

TIM SULLIVAN ELUDES GUARDS

Former Congressman Took French Leave Last Tuesday Night.

HIS MENTAL STATE.

Had Been in Home of His Brother—Disappeared With But One Dollar in His Pocket.

New York, Sept. 9.—"Big Tim" Sullivan is missing.

Fears are expressed that the once powerful political leader may never be found alive, but every effort is being made today to find some trace of him. It has now been a week since "Big Tim" eluded his guards in the house of his brother, Patrick Sullivan, and disappeared mto the night.

Tim had but $1 of money in his possession, and no trains to or from New York passed the country place where he was confined several hours after he disappeared. "Big Tim" could not appear on the streets of New York without being recognized immediately, but the only clue received as to his whereabouts was run down and proved worthless.

Though Sullivan's physical condition had improved lately, his mental condition has shown little change. He was removed from a sanitarium to a house fitted up for him by his brother on East Chester road some time ago. He was furnished with a housekeeper and three guards. He followed his usual habits, and after having lunch served to him late last Tuesday night he escaped.

Recently Sullivan has talked about Washington and his seat in Congress. The authorities there will be notified to look out for him.

Timothy D. Sullivan was a member of the House in the Fiftieth Congress. He served form March 4, 1903, to March 3, 1905. He represented the Eighth New York district. Mr. Sullivan then retired from Congress, but was re-elected to the House last fall. Owing to ill-health he did not take his seat last spring, and has not yet been sworn in.

TWO BOYS MURDERED.

Bullet Holes Discovered in Their Decomposed Bodies.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 9.—The discovery of bullet wounds last night in the bodies of John Rys, aged 16, and George Dimer, aged 9, who were found dead Saturday night near Havelock, leads to the theory that the boys were murdered. Coroner V. A. Matthews prepared to hold an inquest today.

The bodies were found in a state of decompostion. The boys were locked in each other's arms as though they had sought to protect themselves from some attacking force. That they had been gored by an infuriated bull was the first theory, but Edward Hoffman, a farmer, maintains there were no cattle in the field where the bodies were found for the past week. The boys had been missing since Thursday following their departure on a day's hunting trip. A few feet away from the bodies were the boy's guns. A shotgun was loaded, but a .22-caliber rifle contained one empty cartridge.

Jerome Acquitted.

William Travers Jerome was acquitted last night of the charge of having gambled on Thursday last on the station property of the Grand Trunk Railway at Coactic, Quebec, while waiting for the immigration authorities to pass on the case of Harry K. Thaw. In discharging him the court apologize dfor the humiliation to which he had been subjected.

Probable Murder.

The body of Mrs. Walter L. Smith, grandaughter of Marvin L. Hughitt, former president of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, and a daughter-in-law of Byron L. Smith, millionaire bank president of Chicago, has just been recovered from Lake Michigan in the vicinity of Lake Forest,, a fashionable Chicago suburb. Mrs. Smith was prominent in society. Present indications point to murder.

SNAPS HUSBAND WITH GIRL.

Manicuring And Candy Eating Ended by Attack of Cousin.

Philadelphia, Sept. 9.—Harry W. King, 30 years old, and manager of a printing plant, and a young woman were sitting on a bench in Bartram Garden. He was manicuring her nails with the file blade of his jackknife and she was contentedly nibbling on a bonbon from a box in her lap. Then they discovered that King's wife, from whom he has been separated three years, and one of her girl cousins had a camera trained on them. King alleges that his wife and her cousin attacked him and his companion with an umbrella.

King went to police headquarters and asked for warrants for the arrest of his wife and her cousin on a charge of assault and battery. He was told to apply to a magistrate in the morning, and said he would do so.

"How much of a sentence is she liable to get?" asked King.

"From six months to a year," replied the clerk.

"That will be enough," said King. "A young lady and I were sitting on a bench in Bartram Garden, and we had been reading," said King. "We were quietly munching candy when my wife and one of her girl cousins aproached and created a scene."

When asked just how they created a scene, King went into details.

"I was manicuring my friend's finger nails, when she happened to turn her head. 'You are having your picture taken,' she cried. I turned about and saw my wife pointing a camera at us. A moment later her cousin rushed at us and attacked my friend. A crowd assembled and I did everything to save the young lady from injury. We looked about for a policeman, but seeing none I dragged her away to safety. Then I came to the City Hall to get warrants.

"This is not the first time it has happened. Once before, while I was sitting in an Atlantic City restaurant with a young lady my wife came in and terrified the guests by upbraiding me and creating a scene."

DUG TOY GRAVES.

Young Society Matron Drowns Herself in Waters of Michigan.

Waukegan, Ill., Sept. 9.—Mrs. Walter B. Smith, one of the weathiest and most attractive young society matrons of Lake Forest, nad wife of a Chicago stock and bond broker, committed suiicde by drowning in Lake Michigan here yesterday. Mrs. Smith was the daughter of Hiram R. McCullough, vice-president of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company.

Two small boys playing along the shore saw the woman acting strangely. She was well dressed, and playing in the sand. She seemed to be making a toy graveyard. They saw her make two tiny graves in the sand and put some flowers at the head of one of the graves. Then she knelt as if she were praying.

The boys saw her tie a rope about her neck. Becoming frightened the boys decided to seek a policeman. They found one some distance away, but when they returned the woman was gone. Some time later a bather found the body floating in the lake.

Mrs. Smith's father is president of the Northern Trust Company, in Chicago, and is closely identified with some of Chicago's financial houses.

SALOON MAN ON A RAMAPAGE.

Killed Wife And Himself, After Shooting at Several Others.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 9.—Culminating a series of domestic clashes of more than a year's duration, Fred Butcher, thirty-one, ex-saloonist, yesterday shot himself and his wife, fired at a neighbor woman, tried to shoot his stepson and then attempted to kill another woman neighbor. His wife has a serious wound in the neck and Butcher is dead at the hospital, where he was taken after the episode. Mrs. Barbara Nichols, the neighbor at whom Butcher fired, narrowly escaped.

Harry Good, twenty-three, the stepson, tried to overpower Butcher and was almost killed by a bullet from the crazed man's revolver.

Butcher's self-inflicted wound, which proved fatal, was just above the heart.

FAMILY ROW IN COURT

Husband, Wife and Son Get on Warpath--Kettles and Bricks Figure

Most of the time of the Police Court this morning was consumed in investigating jars of a family residing on Columbus street. The parties have figured in the Police Court on other occasions as the result of domestic infelicities.

After a protracted quarrel between husband and wife missiles were resorted to, and during the melee the wife alleged her liege lord struck her. It was said by witnesses that a son of the man by a former marriage also had on war paint and that he was armed with a brick.

A lawyer represented the husband, but the wife and son had to "go it alone."

After the evidence had been taken, the court took no time in summing up the case, but imposed a fine of $5 upon each participant.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

RECEIVED BACK TO FOLD.

Deposed Pastor of Third Christian Restored Back to Membership.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 9.—The congregation of Third Christian Church on Sunday admitted to full membership the Rev. David R. Francis, who as pastor for one year and who was dismissed in June on the charge that he kissed a woman member of his flock.

The vote to receive the former pastor as a member, it is stated, stood 50 to 5.

Although the Third Christian is still without a pastor, the question of extending a call to Mr. Francis has not been raised. Indeed, Mr. Francis' friends say that he could not and would not accept, and he is anxious for the congregation to know that he is in nowise a candidate. He is negotiating with a commercial establishment, and if he does not succeed in obtaining the position he is seeking in Richmond, he will take up work which will require his absence from the city. He is desirous, however, of remaining here.

Some weeks ago a member of the church who was charged with having disseminated a former accusation against the pastor was dropped from the church roll. He has not been reinstated.

DEMANDS REMOVAL OF HOME.

Says Town is Injured by Conditions In Industrial School.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 9.—Asserting that conditions at the Virginia Home and Industrial School for girls are so gross and notorious to inflict injury upon the nearby village of Bon Air, the citizens of that community assembled in mass meeting at the home of Polk Miller, last night, unanimously adopted resolutions demanding the removal of the home from its present location, and appointed a committee to petition the Circuit Court of Chesterfield county to conduct an immediate investigation into the institution's affairs .

The resolution is prefaced by a preamble which sets forth in detail Bon Air's grievances. Objection is taken to the indiscriminate use of the town's unsullied name in newspaper accounts of the recent outbreaks at the institution and the statement is made that the presence of the home in the vicinity is operating to depress the value of property, and is menacing the town in other ways which may be better indicated than expressed.

TO FIX VIRGINIA BOUNDARY.

Commission Will Leave For Potomac River Tonight.

Baltimore, Sept. 9.—The commission named by the last Legislature to confer with a commission from Virginia to decide upon boundary lines in the Potomac river, between Maryland and Virginia, will leave Annapolis tonight on the State steamer Governor McLane for the Potomac. State Senator Carville B. Benson is chairman of the commission.

The commission, which will be accompanied by Swepson Earle, engineer to the Shellfish Commission, and Capt. C C. Yates, of the Coast and Geodetic Survey, will meet the Virginia Commission. Under existing laws the Maryland line runs along the south shore of the Potomac, but as this does not include the estuaries, it is necessary to establish these headlines on the Maryland side, as Virginians are allowed to fish in the river proper, but not in Maryland estuaries.

SORA PLENTIFUL THIS YEAR.

Bullbats Are Also Being Slaughtered in Old Dominion.

Richmond, Sept 9.—Sora-hunting is now in progress in Virginia, the birds being unusually fat and large. Bullbats, which are better this season than for some time, are also being slaughtered, although this is prohibited by law. The bats are unusually plentiful in the fields north and south of Richmond, hundreds of them being seen every evening over Barton Heights, Brookland Park, Ginter Park, Highland Park, Woodland Heights, Forest Hill, and Bon Air.

The deer season, which opened the first of the month, is also helping to lessen the burdens upon those who oppose beef trust prices, as several fine specimens have been killed within the last few days

It is reported that wild game will be plentiful this year, as the strict laws in regard to pot hunting have helped to increase the supply.

Burned by Explosion.

Bristol, Va., Sept. 9.—Mrs. Marvin Armstrong, wife of a traveling man, was painfully burned Sunday by exploding gas. She struck a match to light a gas stove and turned on the gas. The match went out and she went to look for another watch, failing to turn off the gas. On her return she struck the match and at once it flamed up in her face, setting fire to her clothing. Her face, arms and throat were burned.

Not even the prestige of the White House could alter the rules of the Pullman Company or move a single passenger with a lower berth to make way for the daughter of the President. Several men appealed to turned their back on the proposal that they give up their lower berth and allow Miss Wilson to sleep below.

DEATHS FROM STORM.

Two Persons Crushed by Collapse of Warehouse.

Emporia, Va., Sept. 9—Reroprts received here from points throughout Greenesville county indicate that great damage was done by last week's storm.

The Roanoke, Nottoway nad Staunton rivers have overflowed and washed away crops in the lowlands. Much property in the vicinity of Pleasant Hill, Garysburg and Weldon has been damaged by high water. Upper Main street here was impassable for some time. This section of the town is drained by a large sewer pipe leading to Horse branch but the downpour of rain was so great that the outlet proved inadequate.

It is estimated that at least a third of the cotton tobacco and corn crops had been ruined by the storm, much of the damaged products being washed away.

Two lives were lost and many persons injured as a result of the collapse of Monk's tobacco warehouse in Farmville, N. C., the storm wrecking many structures in that town.

WITHOUT FOOD 3 DAYS.

Man Claiming Lynchburg as Home Overcome at Danville.

Danville, Va., Sept. 9.—John Braun, a young man about twenty-five years of age, and claiming to be from Lynchburg, succumbed to sheer exhaustion here Saturday as a result of having been unable to secure food for three days. Braun lost his position in Lynchburg and being without funds came to this city to secure employment. He only had money enough to ride half way and walked the rest of the distance, arriving here this afternoon. He spent the evening in a vain effort to secure work and about 9 o'clock last night fell exhausted to the street in front of the Y. M. C. A., building. The police are caring for the man and it is said that his condition is not serious.

Monument to Pioneer Preacher.

The Doak monument committee, Dr. A. S. N. Doson chairman), has let the contract for a monument. The moss-grown slab beneath a tangle of wild grass in the cemetery at Salem Church, Washington county, Tenn., will be removed and the granite monument placed in its stead.

RAILROAD COMPANY DECLARED RESPONSIBLE.

The action of the coroner's jury which investigated the cause of the death of W. H. Peck and Ernest Zell at Hume's Crossing last Sunday morning was no surprise to all who had carefully considered the circumstances in connection with that frightful horror. The testimony in the case showed that the surface crossing at that point is regarded with anxiety by those in charge of automobiles and vehicles,as they are often seen on both sides of the railway track awaiting the passage of trains. People unacquainted with the geography of the road are liable to run on the rails before they can see them or are aware of the danger.

The fact that there is an incline on the southern side adds to the danger of north bound vehicles.

A full account of the proceedings of the coroner's jury will be found on the first page of the Gazette. Its perusal will convince all fair-minded people that the verdict of the jury needs no revision.

It is an old saying that it is useless to lock the stable door after the horse is gone. Already three lives have been snuffed out. Action looking to the elimination of this dangerous crossing should have been taken months ago when the Alexandria Automobile Association called attention to this menace. It seems, however, that some serious result of procrastination is needful in many cases before any decided action follows.

In this connection it may be stated that dangerous conditions exist in other places as well as Hume's Crossing, and while the Washington and Old Dominion Railway Company has been declared remiss in maintaining such a man and animal trap, the authorities should see that other dangerous places are guarded in the future.

Telegraph Crossing, almost on the confines of Alexandria, and over which people living in Fairfax county, south of this city, are compelled to pass, contains a number of railway tracks. Trains are passing at this point night and day, some going out and others coming in. It is true a watchman is on duty during the day, but he does not entirely eliminate danger when trains are running in both directions. Besides there is no watchman at this place at night.

Some time ago a movement was started towards bringing about safer conditions at this much used crossing. It has almost died out and will doubtless cease to cause interest until Alexandria is startled by a horror as serious as that of last Sunday morning while the church bells were ringing.

COURT RAPS BEFUDDLED JURY.

A high-browed Cumberland county, Pa., jury earned a caustic reprimand from Judge Sadler yesterday by finding Charles Yiengst guilty of assault and battery and recommending that the prosecutors, Misses Ella and Bertie Miller, pay the costs of prosecution. The august jurors double-timed to their consultation room after the court had read their title clearly and forthwith reversed their solemn adjudication.

Attorneys were paralyzed with astonishment when they heard the verdict which came from unusually high-class jurors.

There has for many years been a growing antipathy in the United States to the jury system, many persons suggesting that it would be more satisfactory were cases tried in banc by three judges, men who have a clear conception of law and equity, which is not always apparent with some jurors.

Shortly after the close of the Civil war the case of a man charged with a misdemeanor was committed to a jury in a neighboring county in Virginia. To the surprise of the court, the jury soon re-entered the room when the foreman announced that the jury had agreed and by bringing in a verdict of murder in the first degree.

Bishop E. E. Hott, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, urged ministers attending the Missouri conference of that church at St. Charles, Mo., yesterday to refrain from tobacco and characterized the total absence from the plant as one of the distinguishing marks of a gentleman. While he was speaking several preachers were smoking on the lawn in front of the church.

PECK-ZELL ACCIDENT.

of 990 yards. He blew again for the station. He had never heard of the state law which requires an engineer to blow his whistle continuously when approaching a crossing. Under cross examination Darley said that he considered 15 miles an hour a safe speed at that crossing. He had frequently seen automobiles standing on both sides of the track waiting for the train to pass.

Lewis N. Smith, who has been employed as firemen on the road for the past three weeks, without previous railway experience, said that he saw the automobile approaching and crash into the car. He notified the engineer about 30 seconds after he crash. As soon as the train stopped he ran back to where the bodies were found. He saw that Zell was dead and helped another man pull Peck from underneath his burning car. When taken out he was also dead.

Lee S. Crockett, conductor, did not see the accident. He said the train was running 15 miles an hour. He heard the engineer blow for the crossing and the station.

James W. King, of St. Elmo, Alexandria county, was an eye witness to the accident. He heard the whistle blow and saw the auto run into the train. It was lifted four feet in the air and thrown down a short embankment.

George Hatton, brother-in-law of the witness, and James Rowe arrived on the scene before the witness, and Hatton pulled the body of Peck from the debris. He said that it was fifteen minutes before the crew came back to the scene.

John Gary, of Del Ray, who was on the jury, testified before being selected as a juryman he measured certain distances, and the train ran 800 feet before stopping, while the automobile was hurled a distance of 100 feet. Dr. Yates also testified as to the distance. Zell's body was 25 feet from the crossing, the car ninety feet, and Peck 120 feet, while the train was about 100 feet from the crossing.

George A. Hatton came up and saw a man burning under a burning automobile. He said the fireman of the train was standing in the middle of the track and made no effort to get the man out.

The funerals of the two victims of the accident were held this afternoon. Mr. Peck was buried at 3 o'clock from Sharon Chapel, Fairfax county, the services being conducted by Rev. Edgar Carpenter, rector of Grace Church. The Elk's ritual was read at the grave by George T. Caton, esteemed leading knight of Alexandria Lodge of Elks. Funeral services for Mr. Zell took place from his late residence, 205 north Payne street and were conducted by Rev. P. P. Phillips.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.

"I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Oriola, Pa., that is not at all unusual. HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Annie Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work.

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailment peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

"As long as there are millionaries and paupers, or mansions and hovels, and as long as men and women are dying of starvation and indigestion, I would rather spend ten months of a lifetime behind the prison bars than sit on the green and golden chairs of Cardinal Gibbons or the Pope himself." With this declaration, Arthur Giovannatti, of the team of Ettor nad Giovanniatti, leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, ended an address at Union Hall, Baltimore, Sunday afternoon.

The body of Leonard Lewis, of Washington, who was drowned at Great Falls Sunday has not been recovered.

Returns from the primary election of Republicans and Democrats in Maryland, indicate the following results: The regular organizations of Republican and Democratic party will remain in control. This means the control of the convention and State Central Committees. General Murray Vandiver will be re-elected chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee.

Mrs. Margaret Carter, an aged Elyria, Ohio, woman, accused of writing blackmailing letters, is near death today in the county jail as a result of her six days' hunger strike. She is unable to rise from her cot, but she steadfastly refused to eat. Jail authorities are at a loss to determine what to do. It may be necessary to feed her forcibly, the system used on hunger striking English suffragists.

A serious accident happened just before midnight last night when an excursion train en route from Strabane to Londonderry, Ireland, left the rails. The carriage was overturned, and ten persons were killed and twelve very seriously injured.

A. T. Miller, a prominent artist of Silver Mine, Conn., and his wife were instantly killed at Norwalk, yesterday afternoon, when their automobile was struck by the Pittsfield Express at Nash's Crossing. The chauffeur was seriously injured.

The torso of a young woman, one part of which was picked up last Saturday and another Sunday at widely separated places on the New Jersey shore of the Hudson River, was dismembered while the victim still lived, according to the report of the autopsy made by Dr. George W. King, county physician of Hudson county, N. J. The absence of the head made it impossible, Dr. King said, to determine whether the murderer or murderers had stunned the victim with a blow or resorted to the use of an anesthetic.

Unidentified, a man was killed shortly after 7 o'clock last night while cycling in the north end of Capitol Grounds near the junction of North Capitol street, Washington, when he collided with an automobile driven by Martin J. Fraas, a plumber. The man was apparently a mulatto or Greek. According to witnesses, the man was riding up the grade behind an automobile and turned out in front of the machine driven by Fraas, which was coming down the hill. He went under the machine, tangled in the wreckage of his bicycle. Fraas placed him in the automobile and hastened to Emergency Hospital, where he was pronounced dead. An examination disclosed a severe fracture of the skull.

Speaker John A. Peters Republican, of Ellsworth, Me., was chosen to fill the vacancy in the third congressional district yesterday by a plurality of 558 over Mayor Wm. A. Pattangall, Democrat, of Waterville, with Edward M. Lawrence, of Lubec, Progressive, a poor third in the race.

Taking advantage of the temporary absence of an attendant, John A. Murphy, aged 72, yesterday, at the government hospital for the Insane, succeeded finally in gratifying the suicidal mania which had led him on two former occasions to attempt to end his life. When the attendant returned he was greeted by the sight of his aged charge hanging before the window by a twisted bed sheet drawn tightly about his throat. He was dead from strangulation.

MYSTERY WOMAN A SUICIDE.

Found Dead Where Boarding, Amid Letters and Funeral Orders.

Dover, Del., Sept. 9.—Found dead from chloroform inhalation, Miss Ulela Yaird, 65 years of age, died a woman of mystery at the home of W. C. Burke, a rural mail carrier at Camden. She was an ardent suffragette and a woman of intelligence and refinement, and had been boarding with the Burkes since June. Beyond this it is known that she was originally from Kentucky and later lived in New York. She is supposed to have been a trained nurse and have served in the Spanish-American war. She had no known relatives.

Several notes found in a hand satchel on her bed gave orders what to do after her death. She left signed checks for the undertaker, covering her funeral expenses, grave digging and bricking, and 11 letters addressed to friends, with a request that they be mailed afterward, notifying them of her death and funeral.

The woman had been dead several hours when found by Mrs. Burke, who had gone to call her to breakfast. Not receiving any response Mrs. Burke summoned her husband and physicians, who found that Miss Laird was dead.

ECITEMENT IN JAPAN.

Anarchists Give Trouble in Flowery Kingdom.

Tokio, Sept 9.—Anarchistic expressions in connection with the agitation over the killing of Japanese at Nanking led to the suppression today of the Niroku Slimbun, an independent newspaper.

The journal asserted that the punishment of the spies of Yuan Shi Kai, the Chinese president, had just commenced, that the murder of Dr. Abe, of the Japanese foreign office, "was a heavenly judgment," and that other assassinations would follow.

The members of the Japanese cabinet are being constantly protected by detectives.

The police arrested the ringleaders of the mobs which were assembling another mass-meeting here, and the meeting was not held. Premier Yamomoto received the organiers of yesterday's meetings and informed them that there was no necessity of sending armed forces to China at

According to another version the premier declared that the sending of troops to China might bring about the partition of that country by the powers.

This city is filled with unsubstantiated rumors that the occupation of Chinese territory is impending.

General Viscount Yoshimici Hasegawa, chief of the general staff, and General Viscount Kawamura, commander of the Tokio garrison, conferred today with Emperor Yoshihi, to at Nikko.

The Chinese government has apologized to Japan for the murder of several Japanese at Nanking, and has ordered an investigation.

The Chinese note voices the desire that a peaceful solution of the affair be reached through diplomatic channels.

TO FACE WHITE SLAVE CHARGE.

Washington Youth Not Permitted to Marry Virginia Girl.

Philadelphia, Sept. 9.—Albert Gordon, an agent of the Department of Justice, on orders from his chief in Washington yesterday, made a new ruling under the Mann White Slave act when he refused to sanction the marriage of Francis Cannon, 22 years old, of Washington, and Louise E. Rhoades, 16 years old, of Raleigh Springs, Va., who ran away several weeks ago and have been living here as man and wife, because the girl was too young to obtain a marriage license under the Pennsylvania laws.

Gordon made his remarkable ruling notwithstanding the girl said she wanted to marry Cannon and also declared her mother wished her to have the ceremony performed. Cannon, who went to work as soon as he arrived here and has been supporting Miss Rhoades since, announced that he wanted to marry her. In the face of these statements, Gordon declared that he had received orders from Washington that Cannon must be prosecuted under the white slave act, and Cannon was remanded for a further hearing next Wednesday.

Cannon's father, who is a wealthy Washington liquor dealer, has signified his intention to come here for the purpose of going on the bail of this son and the girl. If this is done, they probably will be married before Gordon will have time to prepare the prosecution.

"Last winter my son caught a very bad cold and the way he coughed was something dreadful," writes Mrs. Sarah E. Duncan, of Tipton, Iowa. We thought sure he was going into consumption. We bought just one bottle of Chamberlani's Cough Remedy and cured his cold completely."
